

To make a native title application

To make a native title application, you or your representative will need to fill out an application form from the Federal Court of Australia. Forms are available from the Federal Court in your capital city or by downloading it from the Federal Court's website, www.fedcourt.gov.au . Once the form has been completed it needs to be lodged with the Federal Court. In South Australia the Supreme Court is also able to receive native title applications. This can be done in person by delivering it to the Court, or by post or fax, or by sending it via the internet. This is called 'filing'.

For more information, contact your nearest National Native Title Tribunal, there offices in Brisbane, Cairns, Melbourne, Perth and Sydney. Freecall 1800 640 501, or visit the website, www.nntt.gov.au

For more information about native title and services of the NNTT please contact the National Native Title Tribunal, GPO Box 9973 in your capital city or Freecall 1800 640 501. Information is also available at www.nntt.gov.au .

The National Native Title Tribunal has offices in Brisbane, Cairns, Melbourne, Perth and Sydney.

Published by the National Native Title Tribunal © Commonwealth of Australia, August 2010. This is provided as general information and should not be relied upon as legal advice for a particular matter.

National Native Title
Tribunal

A visual representation of the native title process

Cover image: Western Yalanji men dance in celebration of their people's native title determination, February 2006.

Shared country, shared future

What happens when there's a native title application?

Indigenous groups.

Local and state governments.

Pastoralists and farmers.

Miners.

Other interested parties.

National Native Title Tribunal