TITLE: National Native Title Tribunal Research Report Bibliographies
Introduction

The Tribunal’s Research Unit prepares bibliographies as a ready reference for anyone wanting to locate readily available, published material about Indigenous Australian people within a particular region or locality. The bibliographies are produced for general library use from reports prepared by the Tribunal for parties to native title mediations. The bibliographies are not exhaustive reference lists about any particular Indigenous group, nor is the published material necessarily an accurate or insightful report of Indigenous society. The Research Unit may update bibliographies from time to time, usually because a new research report has been reproduced for parties to mediation.

It should be noted that the contents and production of these reports are governed by time and resource constraints. They are often prepared in four to eight weeks by a single research officer with some input from a research assistant and Tribunal librarian. Generally most of the references sought for these reports are available only from the AIATSIS library, which in turn has limited resources available to supply material. Therefore care is taken to request only that material which appears relevant to the scope of a particular report.

Disclaimer: The bibliographies are a list of materials that have been used by the Research Unit of the Tribunal to provide background information for native title mediations. The Tribunal forms no view on the accuracy, completeness, or relevance of the reference material cited in these bibliographies. Most of this material is held at libraries and is available to the public. The Tribunal library may be able to assist in locating items.
Yued Report 2nd Edition

The second edition of the Yued report was prepared by research staff of the National Native Title Tribunal to assist in the mediation of issues arising from the Yued native title application (WC97/71). The Yued report included material relating to accounts on location, culture and custom and contact history. It was based on publicly and readily available information relevant to the Yued people.

Research Method

The research material reviewed in this report was based initially on a search of the AIATSIS online catalogue, Mura. A search was made of the ‘print collection’ using the key word ‘Yuat’ in the ‘language group’ field and a geographical search under the AUSLIG co-ordinates SH50-09 and SH50-10 in the ‘place’ field. Materials with access restrictions were omitted from the list of items requested as were foreign language materials, obvious duplications, microforms and material that appeared to deal with technical aspects of language or education curricula.

A search was made of the Environment Australia and HERA online catalogues under the heading ‘Yuat or New Norcia or Moore River or Moora’. Materials relating to ‘Aborigines, Australian’, ‘Missions to Australian Aborigines’ or ‘Missions’ were requested. A search was also conducted through the Library and Information System of Western Australia (LISWA) using the key words ‘Aborigines’ and ‘Moora’ and ‘Aborigines’ and ‘Jurien’.

The material generated by these searches was supplemented by relevant material and further references found in Tindale’s 1974 text Aboriginal Tribes of Australia: Their Terrain, Environmental Controls, Distribution, Limits, and Proper Names, Thieberger’s 1993 text Handbook of Western Australian Languages South of the Kimberley Region and Horton’s 1994 text The Encyclopaedia of Aboriginal Australia, although not all references were obtainable at the time of writing.
Material from relevant references from previous research reports was also included. Additional material concerning the location of the Yued people was found in the following general references and was included in this report:

- Bates, 1985, The Native Tribes of Western Australia;
- Donohue, 1991, ‘AIATSIS Library Language Names and Community/Established Language Names’;
- Greenway, 1963, Bibliography of the Australian Aborigines And The Native Peoples Of Torres Strait To 1959;
