The map depicts the boundaries of claimant applications (these can be external boundaries of determination areas, People's Applications, and Unallocated Crown Land) and Native Title determination areas, as per the Federal Court. The applications shown on the map include: registered applications (i.e. those that have complied with the registration test), registered determinations as per the National Native Title Register (NNTR), and determined applications (these may be applications that are either registered or unregistered). The map shows this boundary rather than the boundary as per the Register of Native Title Determination Areas (Part A and B). Where the boundary of an application has been amended in the Federal Court, the map shows the amended boundary as per the Federal Court decisions. To determine whether any areas fall within the external boundary of an application or a determination area, a search of the Tribunal's registers and databases is required. Further details on the applications and determinations are available from the Tribunal's registers and databases. The applications and determinations shown on the map are as of 1 June 2019. Any changes to these applications and the filing of new applications happen through the Tribunal's registers and databases. The information provided is often supplied by, or based on, data and information professional advice. Appropriate professional advice relevant to your circumstances should be sought.
