Persons claiming to hold native title:

Identity of the Native Title Claim Group

The Native Title claim group is know to itself and all neighbouring Aboriginal groups as Djiru. The claim group is often referred to as the Mission Beach/Clumpoint mob, after the English names of significant cultural areas in their traditional country. The claim group is continuous both in terms of descent, and in terms of continuous transmission of the Djiru identity from the group of the same name recorded in and around the claim area late last century, and in various written sources since.

Membership of the Native Title Claim Group

The current membership of the claim group is identified by the principle of cognatic descent (descent traced through either one's father or one's mother). Descent is traced from a limited set of persons recognised in the regional Aboriginal community as associated with the Djiru/Mission Beach/Clumpoint identity, including the claim area, at the time of European occupation. By these descent principles, the current membership of the claim group consists of descent groups listed by their surnames, together with the apical ancestors from who they trace their descent.

The CLUMPOINT, GEIA, SPENCER, NONA AND SARABO family groups being the descendants of Polly Illich and her descendants Bidy Illich, Paddy Illich and Major Clumpoint.

The MASINA, ANDY, MOW, MOONER, ASSAN AND RYAN Family groups being the descendants of siblings Minnie (Buynoo), Rosie (Koojilun), Maggie and Kitty Nguyam.

The BARNEY, DICKMAN, AND THAIDAY family groups being the descendants of Toby King and Nellie and their son Barney King.

The PALMER, OBAH family groups being the descendants of Lucy Palmer and her children, Alf Palmer, Daisy Obah and Daphne Palmer.

The NULLAJAR family group being the descendants of Bobby Nullajar and his son, Mick Nullajar.

The PARKER family group being the descendants of Charlie Mungoola (also known as Charlie Mungalla).

, The BANFIELD, BONNER, THIMBLE, PICKLES family group being the descendants of Jimmy Banfield and his mother.

And includes persons adopted by any of those descendants according to the traditional laws and customs of the claim group.
